

Zengine™

System Access

Tip 1: Administrators can navigate to wizehive.com, locate "Login" in the top right navigation bar, then choose the "Zengine" option.

Or navigate directly to the login page: <https://auth.zenginehq.com/users/login>. This is only the login page for workspace members.

Tip 2: Gaining access to an existing workspace will require an invite from that workspace's administrator. After being invited you will receive an email containing a link where you can accept the access by logging in using your Zengine credentials.

Tip 3: If you are new to Zengine, you must create a new user account. You can do this on your own on the main login page or when invited to a workspace for the first time. Click on "Create an account" under the login box.
